—In chronic diseases, medicines should be restoring, and not debilitating, in their action. The wonderful strengthening and curative effects, realized from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, sustain the reputation of this remedy as the most popular blood purifier.

—"My Dear," said a Carson man to his wife, "are you aware of the fact that a man's brain weighs three and one-half pounds?"

"You've read that somewhere haven't you?"

"Yes."

"Well, doesn't the article read that a woman's brain is somewhat lighter; and, of a much finer quality?"

"It certainly does."

"Well, then, just concentrate your three and a half pound intellect on this list of items and go straight down to Olcovich Bros., no other place will do, and buy these goods. Don't forget that barrel of sugar, or the shoes for myself. They keep the best assortment of General Merchandise of any firm in the State." Go to,

OLCOVICH BROS.

The Little Louise.
Again the Little Louisiana investors struck it rich at the last drawing.

A man in one of the logging camps drew $200 and small prizes of $5 and $10 were sprinkled all over the city.

The idea seems to prevail that the Little Louise is the Mascott of the neck of the woods.

The prizes covered do not amount to ten per cent. of what goes out of the county and the drain will never cease until the Legislature allows Nevada to have a lottery of its own.

SHAW'S HALF-BRED HOLSTEIN.

Something of its Capacity as a Milker.

For some years past the writer has been claiming considerable more for his thoroughbred Holstein Saratoga than a good many dubbing Thomases were willing to admit.

A very positive demonstration of his capacity as a sire of heavy milkers can now be seen at Shaw's Hot Springs.

Shaw has a two year old heifer sired by Saratoga which last week came in with its first calf.

Its fine udder and well developed milk veins all gave promise of a heavy milker, but the quantity of milk produced was rather more than Shaw had counted on.

He has carefully measured her milk for several successive days and she has settled down to giving 10 quarts at night and 8 quarts in the morning.

This for a two year old animal we consider extraordinary and a circumstance which demonstrates the value of "Saratoga" as a sire of fine milk stock to such an extent that there is no longer any room for discussion.

We challenge the State to produce a half breed that will give a like amount of milk.

The cow fed on nothing but native grasses and no attempt has been made to force her record which by judicious feeding could easily be accomplished.

The International Prince now owned by French Brothers, Ohio, is half brother of "Saratoga" and his services as a sire command the sum of $200.

Yet this city is full of people who growl at paying one tenth that sum.

Last Night's Performance.
Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde was played last evening to a good audience.

The play is a very strong one and hinges on the proposition "which few candid men will deny" that one lives more or less a double life or at least has two natures ever struggling for the mastery.

It may be Jekyll inciting us to high and pure purposes and an ambition to tread the upper walks of life, or it may be Hyde leading us in the direction of low company, lust and murder.

Nature gives us both the good and bad impulses and leaves us to decide which shall guide us.

The change from one character to another was full of intense interest and the audience was well worked up to the interest centered in Mr. Bandmann's very clever transformations.

The change in his appearance, manner and voice showed a fine appreciation of the dual character and wonderful versatility as an actor.

It was a noticeable fact that the interest of the audience was centered not in the good Dr. Jekyll but in the wretch Hyde which goes to show that there is in the breast of a majority of people, no matter how good, a sympathy for the thoroughly depraved.

Did we not all have a touch of the Old Adam in us that sympathy would be wholly wanting.

Death of George Comstock.
Yesterday morning George Comstock while crossing his back yard between 4 and 5 o'clock was stricken with apoplexy and fell on the ground dead.

Comstock was a member of the sporting fraternity and all of his associates speak in fond terms of his many estimable qualities and he was known every where in the State as a man who was as honest as the day. His funeral will take place this afternoon.

Divorced.
Mr. and Mrs. John Cohoe who formerly resided in this city have dissolved the matrimonial relation. Mrs. Cohoe was the plaintiff in the case.

—Omaha has a minister who believes he sees prophetic visions. He declares that in 1884 he foretold the election of Cleveland, and it came to pass. He now writes:

"March 5, 1888. I saw in a vision that James G. Blaine would run against President Grover Cleveland, and win the race. Mr. Blaine, fear not for the day is yours."

BELL TO THE FRONT.

He will wipe out the Dog Nuisance.

Some weeks ago the APPEAL published a delicately worded article on the dog nuisance and calling on merchants to either keep dogs away from their vegetables or keep the same above "high water mark."

Mr. Leslie Bell with a view of meeting the demands of an age of advancement, has sent to Chicago for an electric lever fence which actually keeps the dogs from interfering with the freshness of the vegetables.

When the dog with its crude ideas of electricity attempts anything of that sort, his act establishes a current "or completes the circuit," so as to speak, and he gets a shock that causes him to turn a couple of somersaults and go down the street calling upon his head the scornful laughter of the mob by his ridiculous attitude. This invention was made in Chicago to fill a long felt want and is founded on strictly scientific principles. It will be here in a few days and placed where it will do the most good.

Bandmann as a Pedestrian.
Bandmann the actor is ranked as one of the best pedestrians in the profession.

Yesterday he gave away his ticket and walked from Virginia City to Carson with his five children.

The children enjoyed the walking it anything more than their father and are never so happy as when trudging along the highway together.

They sometimes walk thirty miles and go right on the stage at the end of the tramp.

Yesterday as soon as they reached the city they took a plunge at Shaw's big swimming bath and were as fresh as ever.

Bandmann and his children frequently leave the theater and walk five miles and back before going to bed.

To some actors such a gift would be valuable when making provincial tours, but Bandmann is well to do and walking is never a necessity.

Righting the Way.
Carson is getting to be a regular Gretchen Green for Comstock couples on matrimonial intent.—See men to Bee.

The preachers have established a practice here of joining the couples, kissing the bride, and directing them to the stage office or drug, and no questions asked. People wanting to get married with a little fuss and feathers and ceremony as possible will find Carson the place.

An Elegant Substitute
For oils, salts, pills, and all kinds of nauseous medicines, is the very agreeable liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. Recommended by leading Physicians. Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Company, San Francisco, Cal. For sale by Geo. C. Thaxter, Agent.

A Mysterious Surveying Party.
A party of surveyors arrived here last week and left for the Northern country. Some say they are looking out a route for a railroad, and others that they are in the employ of the Government inspecting surveys made two or three years ago.—Silver State.

Advice to Mothers.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.
